All subscribers of the Antioch News are requested to notify this office at once what route they will receive their mail from, so we may make the corrections and they may receive their paper promptly.

Snail's Sense of Smell.

According to the researches of M. Emile Yung, the sense of smell in the snail seems to be located not only in the feeling organs, but all over the body, as experiment proves that the snail can perceive odors by means of sensory cells which are placed in different parts of the body, quite apart from the special organs which might be supposed to be his only means of sensation.

BIG BOOM FOR ANTIOCH

MAGAZINE TO ILLUSTRATE FOX LAKE REGION

Special Edition de Luxe of the News To be Compiled by Well Known Chicago Newspaper Man

Believing the time was ripe for giving some publicity to the village of Antioch and the Fox Lake region, the editor of the Antioch News consulted last week with the J. Manz Engraving company of Chicago as to the best method of compiling in magazine form a special illustrated edition of this paper.

It was decided after due deliberation to send to Antioch Mr. Alfred Gordon, a well known Chicago newspaper man, and a member of the illustrated magazine staff of the Manz establishment. Mr. Gordon arrived in Antioch yesterday afternoon and, after looking over the ground and talking with a few of the citizens, decided to commence the work at once.

As is probably well known to many of the business men of Antioch the J. Manz Engraving company is the largest engraving printing house in the United States. Their work in the line of promoting towns by means of high class illustrated prospectuses has been effective, and in many instances has been the means of locating valuable institutions in various localities.

The idea of exploiting a town by means of printers' ink is of course not a new one. There are features however connected with the present plan which are probably different from many others, and the News takes this opportunity of explaining to its subscribers the nature of the work.

This special edition, then, of the Antioch News, will be published as an edition de Luxe in Magazine form on heavy enameled book paper with highly finished half tone engravings. It will be issued from the presses of the J. Manz Engraving company and several thousand extra copies will be run off. The illustrations will consist of views of Antioch, its streets, buildings, residences, landscape and summer resort scenes, together with the portraits of the merchants and others who have helped to build up and develop their home town.

The write-up of Antioch and the Fox Lake will be done in good simple English in the best metropolitan newspaper style, useless words and cumbersome language will be avoided, and the story of Antioch and its various business enterprises will be told in a terse convincing manner. In undertaking this work the News requires and bespeaks the hearty co-operation of all its subscribers and patrons. Those asked to subscribe to the work will be approached solely on business grounds. Stated broadly, the plan is to get up a prospectus which may be used for some years to come as a vehicle of publicity for Antioch and the Fox Lake region, something which may be used as an argument to induce outside capital to locate here. Propositions which Antioch has to offer to the investor will all be dwelt upon and properly emphasized.

Antioch's new growth and wonderful recovery from the fire of last year will be described in both pen and picture sketches. Antioch's splendid hotels and resorts, Antioch's banks and business houses, Antioch's healthy situation, its progressive spirit as seen in its internal improvements, Antioch's unrivaled geographical situation, all this will furnish good material for the camera and the pen, and when completed the prospectus will be in itself a general and broad invitation to the outside public to come to Antioch.

Wonders of Flowers.

The sensitiveness of plants and flowers to certain conditions of weather and light is such that it is always possible that they may have other properties not yet discovered. There is an American garden, for instance, in which the flowers are so selected that one set closes at each hour of the day. Others only open and shed perfume at night, others curl up and suppress their existence for months, yet will open in a few minutes and put forth buds in a few hours when immersed in water.

"The Silent Sea."

Of all the navigated seas of the world the most dreaded by the mariner is the great Southern ocean, which stretches between the Cape and Australia, and lies nearest to the Antarctic circle. A lonely highway is this—far from the main ocean trading routes, and but few ships are to be found in its waters. Its awful solitude has given it the name of the "Silent Sea."

Hindoo Professions.

In the last census paper from India there are some queer answers under the head of "Profession." One Hindoo says he is an "eye cleaner," another "a tale bearer from house to house." Another gives his source of income as "begging from relations."

THE MOVEMENT OF ODORS.

Proof That They Diffuse Through the Air Like Gases.

That odors move with the air, or diffuse through it like gases and do not pass through it in waves, as sounds do, or in swiftly moving particles like the radium emanations, seems to be conclusively shown by recent experiments on the propagation of scents through small tubes. In such tubes there can be no general motion of the air, and the rate of travel of an odor is extremely slow. That of ammonia took over two hours to get through a tube a yard and a half long. The presence of the ammonia could be detected chemically at about the same time that its smell was noticed. It seemed to make little difference in the speed whether the tube was held horizontally or vertically, or whether the odor moved up or down.—Success.

Two Important Questions.

Two questions of considerable importance confront the Panama Canal Commission—how to raise the funds; and whom to employ to do the actual work of construction. As to the financial problem, Secretary Shaw proposes to issue $130,000,000 of canal bonds, to be taken up by the people. The bonds will contain a portrait of the late Senator Hanna, and when they are put upon the market, the admirers of the Senator, and those who have been so anxious for the canal, can manifest their patriotism by rolling up a huge subscription. The labor question need not be settled for some time yet as a couple of years will be needed to prepare the plans and specifications. At present it looks as if tens of thousands of Chinese coolies will have to be brought to the Isthmus. A white man cannot bear up under the climate while digging in the trenches. Much of the work might be done by electric light, after sunset. It has been asked if the 8-hour law of 1892 will apply to this government contract? Admiral Walker says, to adopt this law would prolong the construction of the canal for a couple of years.

A Novel Entertainment.

On last Saturday evening the McBarro Co. presented a strong and novel program at the opera house, to a small but very appreciative audience, for the presentations were grand and very interesting. The piano selections by Edward M. McCaffrey showed that he has an undisputed right as an artist. The monologues by A. R. Morehouse were good and caused quite a bit of laughter.

The most pleasing features of the program were the crayon sketches, which were drawn with such rapidity and ease, that the naked eye could not trace the lines as fast as they were drawn. The entertainment was well worth double the price of admission, and deserved a packed house.

To Whom It May Concern.

As some malicious parties are circulating a report to the effect that I am using lake water in the manufacture of Pop, Ginger Ale, etc., from my establishment at Grass Lake, I hereby post a forfeit of $50 to any party or parties who will produce evidence to that effect. The water used for this purpose is pumped direct from a well of pure, fresh water and the articles manufactured therefrom are as pure and healthy as can be placed on the market.

Robert Sells,
Grass Lake, Ill.

Bachelors' Picnic.

The annual picnic given by the two bachelors, Jas. Kaye and R. J. McDougall, to their friends was given at the latter's cottage at Grass Lake, Saturday, and, as on previous occasions, a royal good time was had. Games of various kinds were indulged in, after which a dinner fit for the king, was served to the hungry guests, who did ample justice. These outings are enjoyed by the many friends of both bachelors, who hope to be with them another year.

Long-Lived Animals.

It is believed that the whale holds the palm for length of years. A reliably correct computation puts the extreme age of the largest of fish at 400 years. It is said in India that elephants have been known to live over 300 years. Certain species of birds, as the swan and the raven, pass the 100 mark; camels sometimes live fifty years; horses from twenty to thirty. Sheep, oxen and dogs have less vitality; it is seldom that a dog lives longer than fifteen years.—Harper's Weekly.

Carlyle and Jenny Lind.

An audience of some three thousand expensive looking fools, male and female, came to see this Swedish nightingale "hop the twig" as I phrased it. Nothing could exceed my ennui. It was 1 o'clock when we got home. On the whole I do not desire to hear Lind again. It would not bring me sixpence worth of benefit. I think to hear her sing six months in that kind of material.—From Forster's Reminiscences.

NAVY PORTFOLIO TO FOSS

SECRETARY MOODY TO SUCCEED KNOX

President Has Not Announced Choice for Portfolio But Foss' Name Is Being Considered

A dispatch from Washington concerning the future career of Congressman George Edmund Foss runs as follows:

Secretary of the Navy William M. Moody is slated to succeed Attorney General Knox when the latter retires from the cabinet to occupy the seat of the late Senator Quay.

The vacancy that will be caused by Mr. Moody's transfer may be filled by the appointment of Representative George Edmund Foss of Danston.

The President has not announced his choice for the navy portfolio, but the place probably will go to an eastern man and a local paper is authority for the statement that Mr. Foss' name is being seriously considered.

"Mr. Foss would make the best secretary of the navy that I could name," said Representative James R. Mann of Chicago, "provided he would accept. His selection would be an honor to Illinois and the whole country."

It is now known that this report is absolutely authentic, and the portfolio will be tendered Mr. Foss. Whether he will accept or not is of course an open question. Some of his friends seem of the opinion that he is better off where he is at present, as chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs.

SOCIAL CUSTOMS OF JAPAN.

Status of the Mother-in-Law Seems Curious to Us.

The mother-in-law is the most momentous social question of the day in Japan. A woman prays that she may become a mother-in-law, because it is only in that capacity that she is ever allowed to show human weakness. These are not, as one might imagine at the expense of her son-in-law, because as son-in-law in Japan, except where a man has married an heiress with no brother, in that case it is the man and not the woman who is a slave and liable to be divorced just as one discharges a cab when it is no longer wanted. It is he who is dressed like a corpse when he leaves his parents' house, as a sign that he is dead to his parents' family. It is he whose change of owner is registered at the police station, so that in Japanese literature it is the gentle daughter-in-law who is the victim of the mother-in-law's tantrums.

To Mend Broken Glass.

If you happen to break a glass or valuable glass ornament it can be effectually and easily mended in the following way: Mix a little isinglass in spirits of wine, add a small quantity of water; warm the mixture gently over a moderate fire. When mixed by thoroughly melting it will form a perfectly transparent glue, which will unite glass so nicely and firmly that the joint will be scarcely noticed by the most critical eye.

The Eyesight of Ants.

That ants perceive and avoid rays of ultra violet light much higher in the scale of vision than the human eye is able to detect, has been shown by Sir John Lubbock. Now a writer in Electrical World suggests that those who are trying to determine the wave length of the X-rays experiment with ants. The X-rays are invisible to man, but it has not been determined whether it is because they are too long or too short for his eye to see. The ultra violet waves are too short.

Women and Nature.

Here is a neat passage from "The Napoleon of Notting Hill," in which Mr. Chesterton discussed feminine nature: "However much, physically, 'about town' a woman may be, she still models herself on nature; she tries to carry nature with her; she bids grasses to grow on her head and furry beasts to bite her about the throat. In the heart of a dim city she models her hat on a flaming cottage garden of flowers. We, with our noble civic sentiment, model ours on a chimney-pot, the ensign of civilization."

Strange Chapels for Welsh Miners.

One of the most remarkable places of worship in the world is the miners' chapel in Myndd Menigdd colliery, Swansea, Wales, where for more than fifty years the workers have each morning assembled for worship. This sanctuary is situated close to the bottom of the shaft. The only light is that obtained from a solitary Davy safety lamp hung over the pulpit from the ceiling, and the oldest miner in the colliery is generally chosen to officiate.—Boston Transcript.

Bricklayers' Wages in Gotham. Among the New York bricklayers the lowest wage is $26.20 a week, and the highest is over $50.

HAD TO ATTEND CHURCH.

Old English Laws Compelled People to Hear Services.

In the reign of Edward VI. an act was passed which provided that every one "shall diligently and faithfully, having no lawful or reasonable excuse to be absent, endeavor themselves to their parish church or chapel accustomed, or, upon reasonable let, to some usual place where common prayer shall be used—on Sundays and holidays—upon penalty or forfeiting for every nonattendance 12 pence, to be levied by the church wardens to the use of the poor." As the years rolled on, however, the penalties for nonattendance became more and more severe, until in Elizabeth's reign such harsh legislation as the following was passed. "All persons who do not go to church or chapel or other places where common prayer is said according to the act of uniformity shall forfeit £20 per month to the queen, being thereof lawfully convicted, and suffer imprisonment until paid."

ISLAND AN EAGLE PRESERVE.

Birds Regularly Bred and Trapped for Chinese Emperor.

Off the southwestern coast of Korea there rises an immense isolated rock of black basalt, which forms an island-like peninsula. During the days of Chinese supremacy over Korea this mass of mountain projecting into the sea was kept as an eagle preserve. The young eagles were netted each year and sent to the emperor of China at Peking, though whether they were trained to catch wolves or antelopes or merely kept as pets is not certain. The Tartars regularly use eagles for the former purpose, but these birds were probably Korean seagulls and rather less suited for the chase than the golden eagle. With the exception of Stellar's sea-eagle, which prey upon young seals, the Korean seagulls are the largest of any species found in temperate countries, though probably the great forest eagle of the Philippines is larger. Their plumage is very dark, becomes almost black with age and the beak is very pale buff, approaching white.

Tragedy of Prehistoric Times.

There is a story of horror and tragedy in a discovery made at Merthyr-mawr, if the interpretation given to the find is the right one. In a tumulus amid the sand dunes two skeletons, in excellent preservation, have been discovered by W. Riley of Bridgend. The skeletons were those of a man and a woman. The jawbone of the latter was broken, apparently not after, but just before death, while the skeleton of the man was in a peculiar position and covered with stones. From these circumstances the theory is put forward by Mr. Riley that the woman was murdered and the man placed alive in the grave and stoned to death, presumably for murdering her.—London Times.

Royal Timepieces.

There are nearly 250 clocks at Windsor castle, and about 170 in Buckingham palace. One of the most interesting of those at Windsor is in a gilt metal case given by Henry III. to Anne Boleyn on the morning of their wedding. It is ten inches high and is engraved with the royal arms of England quartered with those of France. The lead weights are engraved with true-lovers' knots and "H. A., Dieu et Mon Droit," at the base. This clock, which at one time became the property of Horace Walpole was bought by Queen Victoria. It has survived four centuries, but four years only marked the duration of the royal love of Henry and Anne Boleyn.

Why Few Women Play Flutes.

A recent historian suggests a reason why the flute is not popular with ladies. "Minerva, in ancient Greece," he says, "hegan to play the flute, thinking it such a beautiful instrument she needs must learn it. But one day, looking in a mirror while she was playing, she saw to her horror that the act of blowing the flute communicated a very inelegant distortion to her face—and in a pet she threw the instrument away. Perhaps the feelings of the fair sex toward the flute have been insensibly influenced by a similar consideration."

The Advantage of Conversation.

The chief advantage of conversation lies in the fact that it makes one forget more important things.

WEEK'S NEWS RECORD

George B. Wagner, of Bridgeport, Conn., a retired hotel-keeper, committed suicide in the Morton House in New York by shooting. He was a member of an alleged suicide club of thirteen members, eleven of whom have died, most of them violent deaths.

Eight hundred Russians are reported to have fallen in a fight near Pusan. The Japanese led the enemy into a trap by a feigned retreat. A dispatch from General Kuroki's headquarters says that only outpost fighting is going on, and the Japanese are bringing up their supplies without delay.

Lieutenant Nathaniel T. Bower, engineer corps of Fort Leavenworth, Kan., was killed near the target range. The officer was on his way to the range to shoot when a bolt of lightning out of a comparatively clear sky struck his rifle, which he was carrying, passed through the arm into the right breast and out through the shoes.

A cloudburst has occurred between Hudson and Palmer Lake, Colo. A number of small houses were swept away, three-quarters of a mile of track was washed out, all the foot bridges and wagon bridges for a distance of ten miles down the stream were wrecked and considerable damage was done down the Fountain valley.

At the annual meeting of the Actors' Society of America in New York the following directors were elected to fill vacancies on the executive board: James K. Hackett, Henry Woodruff, John E. Kellard, Frank Burbeck, Ernest Lamson, George D. McIntyre, Edward McCabe, Miss Bessie Taylor and Harold Hartwell. The old officers were re-elected.

A grocer's mistake in filling a customer's jug with gasoline when vinegar was asked for, resulted in an explosion at the home of Antoine Schoen in Kansas City, which caused the death of Schoen's wife and injury to three other persons. The woman, supposing she was using vinegar, poured from the jug into a skillet on the stove and an explosion and fire followed.

Ten lives were lost the other night in the floods in Indian Territory and Oklahoma. A cloudburst carried away a house in Mill Creek in which Mrs. R. H. Wilson, her 2-year-old babe and Miss Fay Davis were asleep. In Kiamichi Valley five children of Tony Jones were drowned and a child was swept away at Bengal. In Hobart, Okla., Charles Hennessy was lost crossing a flooded creek.

A farmer living near Huntington, W. Va., through motives of curiosity, took apart his telephone transmitter. While examining it the granulated carbon fell out. The stuff looked like gunpowder to the farmer, and he replaced it with that material. Then he called up "central" to see if his telephone would still work. An electric spark set off the powder and the experimental farmer was badly injured in the explosion.

BREVITIES.

In a battle between three alleged post-office robbers and a posse of citizens in Marshallfield, Mo., two of the robbers were badly wounded and captured, while the third escaped.

The new $700,000 medical laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania was dedicated the other day. It is considered the best equipped institution of the kind in the United States.

Meyer Guggenheim, aged 76, head of the family of multi-millionaire mining and smelting men of New York, has been made defendant in a breach of promise suit for $100,000.

Admiral Togo reports that he is informed that the Russians evacuated Yinkow, the port of Newchwang, after the recent shelling of the shore near that place by Japanese war ships.

The worst storm for years, wind, rain and hail, raged near Williston, N. D. Several barns, houses and windmills were blown down, but no one was hurt. The wind blew seventy-five miles an hour.

John D. Rockefeller is perfecting a $2,500,000 mine combine, having secured control of the greatest mining properties in the country. He expects to control almost the entire output of leading minerals.

Theophile Belinger, a murderer, standing on the gallows, died of fright in Montreal, Que., an instant before the trap was sprung. He was dead when the trap fell. The autopsy showed his heart was ruptured.

Clifford Boylan was fatally wounded and two other white men were severely injured in a revolver and knife battle between white men and negroes in Canton, Ohio. Seventeen negroes were arrested to save them from the whites.

George Billups of Norfolk, Va., a cabin passenger on the Old Dominion line steamer Princess Anne, from Newport News and Norfolk, jumped overboard while the vessel was steaming up the lower bay off the Roper shoal. The body was recovered and taken to New York.

Following a quarrel over a trivial affair at Girardville, Pa., Thomas Thompson, a railroad engineer, shot and killed Phillip Curley, aged 21 years. Thompson fled, but was afterward arrested. Some years ago Thompson shot and killed his younger brother, who was rushing upon his mother with a knife.

RIOT AT VICTOR.

Colorado Dynamite Outrage Followed by Fatal Battle.

The authorities at Victor, Colo., have arrested and are holding 250 union miners prisoners, as a result of the riots and clashes with the troops in the labor war. These men have been arrested throughout the district and taken to the military prison. A reign of terror still exists throughout the region and although the situation is well in the hands of the troops, further outbreaks are feared at any time. The union men are in the minority and many of them are seeking the shelter of the military prison in order to save their own lives.

At an early hour Tuesday a mob of 200 armed men crushed in the front of the Miners' Union building in Bennett avenue with a battering ram. Union men fled to escape mob violence. The soldiers pursued and continued firing and to scour the country for men who were in the union hall.

The vigilance committee organized is still at work in the small towns arresting unionists and bringing them to Victor, where they are placed under heavy military guard. These arrests will continue, a Victor dispatch says, until every man of influence in union circles is a prisoner, when, it is understood, they will be placed on board a special train and deported from the country.

Sheriff Bell, who succeeded H. M. Robertson, announced that all citizens must go unarmed and any one who disobeyed this order will be promptly arrested by the militia. Resistance to his orders means shooting and no interference of any kind will be tolerated.

Sheriff Henry M. Robertson resigned under compulsion. He was forcibly taken to the headquarters of the Mine Owners' Association and his resignation was demanded. At first he refused to resign, but when finally a coil of rope was thrown at his feet he weakened and signed the resignation which had been provided for him.

The sentiment of the mine owners, as voiced by C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the association, is that all union miners must be driven out of the camp. His declaration that the time had come to "purge the district" started the rioting at the mass meeting in Victor called to discuss the dynamite outrage at Independence, which resulted in the killing of Hoxie McGee, a non-union miner, and the wounding of six other persons, one of whom, John Davis, also a non-union miner, died a few hours later. The first shot was fired by some one in the crowd. This was followed immediately by two rifle shots from the windows of miners' union hall. Sheriff Bell called on the local company of the State guard, commanded by Capt. Harry G. Moore, to assist in preserving order and in arresting the men in the union hall. Soldiers were stationed on the roof of the building opposite the hall and from this point of vantage fired into the doors and windows of the hall. A scattering fire was kept up by both sides for twenty minutes, at the end of which time the miners surrendered. Two men were killed and eight wounded in the rioting.

The city marshals of Anaconda, Goldfield and Independence are among the prisoners held by the authorities. Together with the city marshal of Victor and the sheriff of Teller County, this makes a total of five officials of the gold camp towns who have been deposed since the troubles of Monday began.

A VICTIM OF MOONSHINERS.

Body of Missing Philadelphia Millionaire Found in the Mountains.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of the young Philadelphia millionaire, Edward L. Wentz, last October, was partially cleared the other day, when his body was found in the mountains near Kelleyview, Wisc County, Virginia. But the manner in which he met his death may never be ascertained. It is believed he was murdered by moonshiners who lost the region and Edward L. Wentz, with whom he was not on good terms. The body was found by a boy who was searching for a stray cow. The front teeth were missing. His revolver, from which three shots had been fired, and his eyeglasses were discovered twenty feet from the body. What are supposed to be bullet holes were found in the coat and vest. There was a bullet wound above the heart, which was probably the cause of death.

The vast property on which the scene of the tragedy is laid covers several counties and extends in part over the borders of four States—Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. It is wild, mountainous land, rich in undeveloped coal and other minerals. Its mountain strongholds are peopled with squatters, who have lived there for generations and who have furnished the men who have shed so much blood in the Hatfield-McCoy feuds. This tract is owned by the Wentz family, and the sons a few years ago organized a company to develop the property. They built a mansion on the scene and went there from Philadelphia to live, the spot.

Early last October a big illicit distillery in the neighborhood was broken up. One of the revenue officers was killed and the leader of the moonshiners mortally wounded. The responsibility for the whole affair was placed upon the shoulders of Edward Wentz by the moonshiners. He was warned by friends that his life was in imminent danger. Oct. 14 last he started out for a ride on horseback, and that was the last seen of him until his body was found recently. The whole country roundabout where the body was found was gone over again and again. Rewards aggregating $100,000 were offered for information concerning him.

To Reclaim Huge Swamp.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company this year will commence the largest irrigation scheme ever undertaken in that country and by it will reclaim over 8,000,000 acres of swamp lands and make them suitable for farm purposes. The company will commence by dredging the main canal, which will be twenty miles long, and will reclaim over 8,000,000 acres of land. The work is to be carried on near Calgary in the Northwest Territory.

ONE WEEK OF WAR.

LITTLE NEWS HAS LATELY COME FROM THE FAR EAST.

Only Events Recorded During Week Are Unimportant Skirmishes—History, in the War Dispatches, Has Given Place to Speculation.

During the last week there was little news from the far East, and in the war columns of the newspapers history gave way to speculation. The only events recorded were several skirmishes between the outposts of Kuroki's army, which is concentrated at Fengwangcheng, and Cossacks thrown forth as feeders from the Russians at Motion pass, midway between Fengwangcheng and Linoyang. The skirmishes were intended only to develop the position of the enemy, and signify nothing, as is evident from the small number of casualties resulting from them. Other skirmishes occurred between Cossacks and the rear guard of Gen. Oku's army at Tsungfuchu, about forty miles north of Kinchou on the railroad. Casualties slight and honors easy.

Later news of the storming of Kinchou and Nanshan hill shows that the Japanese lost 4,300 men in that success. To lose 4,300 men in the taking of an outpost may seem at first to be magnificent, though not war. However, the taking of the hill seems to have given the Japanese a clear road to the gates of Port Arthur, and to have enabled them to take Dalny and its harbor without a struggle. In view of these later events, the taking of Nanshan hill may turn out, after all, to have been as wise as it was courageous.

The two questions which are most thoroughly agitating the prophets at present concern the Russian fleet in Port Arthur and Kuropatkin's reported attempt to raise a siege of that town.

If the Japs seem about to storm the line to Port Arthur will the Russian fleet make a run for it? The result of this run would be the destruction of the Russians, but also the severe crippling of the Japanese fleet, which would open the way for the Baltic squadron's appearance in oriental waters. If the Russian ships staid in the harbor their fleet would be destroyed just the same, but no coincident damage would be done the Japanese. There is one consideration in this respect which must not be overlooked. It is reported that the big naval guns have been removed from the ships and stationed in the land fortresses.

Will Kuropatkin try to relieve Port Arthur? If he does he must march down the railroad from his present position at Linoyang and strike Oku in the rear. It is fair to suppose that Oku has fortified his rear, and his base is, of course, safe, because his base is the sea. If Kuropatkin marched in any force southward from Linoyang his left flank would be exposed to attack from the third Japanese army at Takushan, which is under command of Lieut. Gen. Nodzu, while his rear would be open to a simultaneous attack from Gen. Kuroki, whose forces are now concentrated at Fengwangcheng. That is the situation as sized up by military experts.

Investment of Port Arthur.

Those who follow the Russo-Japanese war closely are perplexed at the course of the European power in allowing Port Arthur to be invested by the enemy from the land as well as the water without taking measures to relieve the besieged.

The prestige of Russia has suffered much since the war began. The driving out of her entrenched battalions at Nanshan Hill was perhaps the most severe blow dealt her pride, for here she had the advantage of position, troops equal numerically to the assaulting columns and splendidly equipped for battle. Yet her army was overborne. If fortified places are wrested from her with odds so much in her favor how can Russia expect to win on ground where the combatants stand somewhere on nearly equal terms?

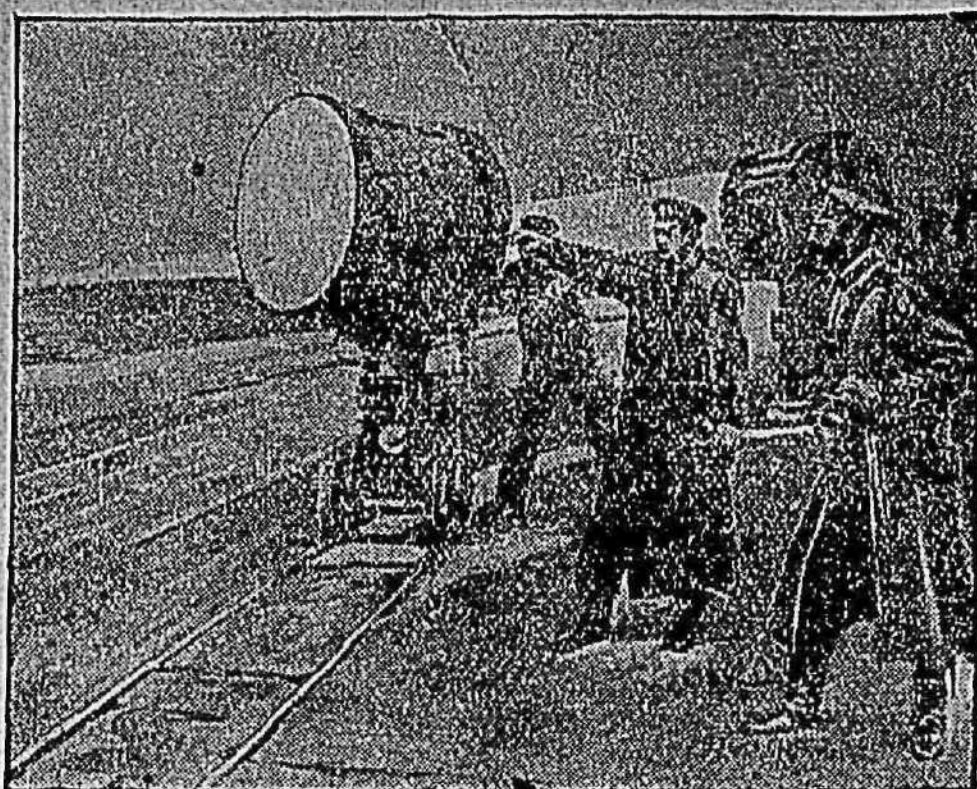

Instead of being the aggressor, as she promised, Russia has been content to be the contrary. She has displayed a woful lack of energy in dealing with her wily antagonist and the latter has been obliged to take the initiative from the first. The provisioning of Port Arthur is thought by some impartial observers to have been indifferent, and that hunger will conquer if fire fails to subdue the stout-hearted defenders. At any rate, the do-nothing policy of Russia in letting the garrison of Port Arthur fight it out alone is one which brings out the incompetence of the government of the Czar in a more conspicuous way than any of the series of blunders which Russia has committed since she forced the Asiaties into fighting.

The long-contemplated attack by the Japanese on Port Arthur began early Thursday morning. The Russian forces around the beleaguered city were reinforced by the troops which had garrisoned Dalny and Kinchou. The Russian vessels in the harbor, with their great guns, aided the land forces in repelling the attack.

Tallenwan Cleared of Mines.

Admiral Togo has succeeded in clearing the channel leading into Tallenwan. He began locating mines on June 8 and since then he has found and exploded forty-one. The work of locating other mines is now continuing and it is expected that the vicinity will be speedily cleared of all such dangerous obstructions to navigation. Admiral Togo reports that a southerly gale and a high sea prevailed during his operations.

SEARCHLIGHTS USED AT PORT ARTHUR.

The illustration shows the high-power searchlights in use at Port Arthur and the manner in which they are operated by the Russians. Each lamp is mounted on a stand specially constructed, and is moved from place to place behind the bastions on a railway track. Storage batteries supply the electricity for the intense light, and the power of the lamps is so great that objects miles out at sea can be discerned by their aid. From nightfall until daybreak these searchlights now are in continual use, officers with telescopes following the moving rays and scanning the dim horizon.

FIGHT IN WATER WAIST DEEP.

Japs and Russians Clash in Sea at Nanshan Hill Battle.

Wounded officers who have returned to Japan from the battle of Nanshan hill give details of the fighting of Nanshan hill. After the first ineffectual attack on the hill the Japanese scouts discovered that there were mines at some spot at the foot of the hill. It was determined that they could be definitely located only by the sacrifice of some men. Hundreds volunteered to go to what appeared to be certain death. They led the second advance and found that heavy mines had washed away the covering of earth and exposed the mines. Engineers cut the connecting wires, rendering the mines useless, and sustained no loss. The volunteers were nearly all killed in the subsequent ineffectual attack on the hill.

The Osaka men, from the right wing, while advancing through the water along the shore, encountered a body of Russians, also in the water. A fierce fight ensued, both sides being waist deep in the sea. When the Russians finally retreated the water was crimson. Both sides lost heavily.

During the day the Russians used several war balloons well out of range.

JAPS RETURN TO TAKUSHAN.

Chinese Say Army of 20,000 Does Not Join Gen. Kuroki.

Chinese who have arrived at Chee Foo from Takushan say that the Japanese army of 20,000 men which landed at Takushan last month and proceeded toward Fengwangcheng, presumably to reinforce Gen. Kuroki, returned to Takushan.

shan May 23. The Chinese believed that the Japanese had been defeated by the Russians, but it is regarded as more likely that the advance toward Fengwangcheng and return to Takushan was simply a Japanese feint.

Turkey Keeps Black Sea Sealed. The Associated Press is informed officially that no negotiations are taking place between Russia and Turkey concerning the passage of the Black sea fleet through the Dardanelles. The Turkish government has affirmed positively its intention to maintain neutrality and to observe strictly the obligations of the Berlin treaty.

While diplomatic circles do not believe in the existence of danger in the Balkans, it is thought that Russia will not consider a reduction of the Black sea fleet at this time.

A Chinese formerly employed in the machine shops at Port Arthur, who arrived at Chee Foo, says that only five of the nine largest Russian ships at Port Arthur are capable of going to sea and that steam is kept up on but three of the five sound vessels.

A correspondent at Tien-tsin learns that 10,000 Russian infantry, with several batteries of artillery, are entrenched in a strong position at Pochchia, twelve miles south of Kal-Chau and thirty-five miles from Newchwang.

CURRENT COMMENT

Now that the religious emblems have been removed from the courts in France, the minister of justice has ordered that the declaration of the rights of man, adopted by the National Assembly in 1789, be posted in the court rooms. The famous statement contains seventeen articles, and is to French republicans what the Declaration of Independence is to Americans.

People who sit in their houses and run the business of the world are now planning campaigns for Russia and for Japan. One is reminded of the story which Punch told during the Boer war of two parlor strategists who were walking down the Strand, quarreling with Gen. Buller's poor strategy in crossing the Tugela. Presently they tried to cross the street, and were run over by an omnibus.

One of the North western railroads will substitute a row of evergreen trees for the board snow-breaks which have long been employed to protect the tracks from the drifts of winter. Planks often get out of order and are constantly showing the effects of wear. A live tree replaces its own injuries. This distinction was in the mind of the man who said that he preferred his bare hand to mittens, which could not meet their own bruises.

It is reported that a number of mines, similar to those which sunk the Hatsuse, have been sent adrift by the Russians in the Gulf of Pechill, and are floating about on the high seas. Two of them, it is reported, have been seen within six miles of Weihaiwei, across the strait from Port Arthur. These reports have occasioned uneasiness, and there is a general feeling that it will be necessary to define the legitimate use of mines by international agreement.

When a reader has difficulty in recognizing the Russian names now appearing in the newspapers, he should remember that it is possible for the English alphabet to represent the sound of Russian words in a great many ways. Take "tschiritch," for instance, which has more than two score different forms. The first part of the word may be "tsar," "tzar," "czar," "cesar" or "czar," and the last part may be "vitch," "rich," "titz," "titz" or "tsch," and the "i" may be changed to "ee" in all the forms.

As one writes the word he is forcibly reminded of Andrey Jackson, who did not think much of a man who could not spell a word in more ways than one.

Port Arthur Well Supplied. It is said that Port Arthur is abundantly supplied with provisions and munitions of war. The bulk of the supplies now there was sent from Vladivostok before communication was cut off. Vladivostok was not weakened by sending these supplies and there is plenty of everything remaining except sugar. Kerosene is also scarce among the civilians, but the quantity on hand is adequate for the needs of the garrison. The railway is open and the traffic in ordinary freight is considerable.

American Tin Mines.

The newly discovered tin mines at Gaffney, S. C., bid fair to prove much richer than was at first thought. Shafts have been sunk to a depth of fifty feet, and the report is that "the deeper the shaft goes the richer the deposit is found to be." One expert expresses the opinion that the mines will prove to be the richest of their kind in the world. Machinery is being established for the working of several tons of ores per day.

Three hundred Russians are reported to have fallen in the fight at Kinchou.

A Marvel of Wood Carving.

One of the greatest works of Henry Vorbruggen is the carved wood pulpit of the grand parochial church at Brussels. The whole design is an allegorical scene. At the base are Adam and Eve, life-size, being expelled by the angel, while grim Death himself may be seen hovering in the rear. The first pair bear upon their shoulders a hollow globe, the cavity being the place where the preacher stands while delivering his sermons. From the globe rises a tree sustaining a canopy, which in turn supports two figures—one of an angel and the other a female representing Truth. Above all this are the Virgin and the infant Jesus crushing the serpent's head with a cross.

Old Soldier's Story.

Sonoma, Mich., June 13.—That even in actual warfare disease is more terrible than bullets is the experience of Elias Hutchins of this place. Mr. Hutchins is a Union soldier saw three years of service under Butler Barke in the Louisiana swamps, and as a result got crippled with Rheumatism so that his hands and feet got all twisted out of shape, and how he suffered only a Rheumatic will ever know.

For twenty-five years he was in misery, then one lucky day his druggist advised him to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Of the result Mr. Hutchins says:

"The first two boxes did not help me much, but I got two more, and before I got them up I was a great deal better. I kept on taking them, and now my pains are all gone and I feel better than I have in years. I know Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure Rheumatism."

Rock Island Makes a Record.

The Rock Island has established a new record for fast time between Omaha and Chicago. May 22d, a special train of five cars, carrying the Anna Held Company, left Omaha at 1:15 a. m., arriving at Chicago at 12:05 o'clock noon. The actual running time was 9 hours and 53 minutes, and as the distance is 400 miles, the average speed was nearly 59 miles an hour. Stops for water were made at Atlantic, Brooklyn, West Liberty, Bureau and Morris. Engines were changed at Valley Junction and Rock Island, and 20 minutes were lost at the latter place while the members of the company ate breakfast.

A performance such as this, made without any special attempt to "break a record," speaks volumes for Rock Island men and methods, for it goes without saying that a speed of nearly a mile a minute for 500 miles is possible only when engines and men and track are of the highest standard.

"The Marine Bride."

"The Marine Bride," one of the best known characters in the streets of Berlin, is dead. She was a worn-looking woman, about 55, shabbily dressed, although of good family, and all ways carried a heavy bag. Her story is tragic. Many years ago she was betrothed to a navy surgeon, and shortly after her engagement she received news that he was drowned at sea. Her mind became unbalanced, and since the day of the fatal news until her death she had wandered along Unter den Linden, believing that her betrothed would return to Berlin driving through the Brandenburger Thor. In a heavy bag she carried what she believed was a suit of clothes, for which her lover would exchange his sea-stained garments.

HAS TRIED BOTH.

Travel for Health vs. Dieting.

A man who was sent to Europe for his health and finally found cure in a little change in his diet says:

"I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years, and two doctors here in Kenosha that treated me for over a year both told me there was no help for me. Then I had an expert from Chicago but still received no relief; then followed another expert from Chicago who came to our house two times a month for four months. He gave me up like all the others and told me to take a trip across the ocean, which I did in the year 1890 and came home about as bad as when I started. The doctors told me my stomach lining was full of sores. Then I began to study my own case and learned of the diet recommended by the Postum Cereal Co., so I gave up coffee, pork and all greasy foods and began using Postum Food Coffee. Gradually I got better and better until I am well now as I ever was in my younger days, have no trouble and eat anything I like to eat.

"Sometimes away from home I am persuaded to drink coffee, but I only take a sip of it, for it tastes bitter and disagreeable to me, but the longer I use Postum the better I like it and the better I feel. I could say a great deal more of my experience with Postum, but think this will give every one a good idea of what leaving off coffee and using Postum can do." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

TAX SALE TO BE TESTED.

Legal Fight Results from Resurvey of Bond County Land.

The courts will be called upon to decide whether or not lands in Bond County can be sold for judgment at the delinquent tax sale, because of the fact that the owners refuse to pay the cost of the resurvey, recently ordered and made by the Board of Supervisors, where descriptions of lands were not sufficient to constitute a proper record on the tax books. There are many sections and quarter sections of land in the county that are described only by metes and bounds, and there have been several cases of tax-dodging because of the fact that certain lands were not properly described. To remedy this a resurvey was ordered, and it is so sweeping in its effect that it includes all land in the county, no matter whether the owners have been paying their taxes or not. Five prominent taxpayers refused to pay the extra costs of the resurvey taxed against them, and their lands have been advertised for sale at the delinquent tax sale. To effect this, C. J. Smith, C. G. Roper and W. M. Ulmer have filed suits in the County Court to test the legality of the tax survey.

MURDER, NOT ACCIDENT.

Witness Tells of Three Men Attacking Henry Coppes.

An investigation into the death of Henry Coppes, who supposedly was killed recently by a Joliet electric car at 52d and Archer avenues, Chicago, may show that the man was either murdered and his body placed on the track to throw off suspicion, or that he was rendered unconscious and then dragged on the rails. A statement made by Inspector Wheeler and Coroner Traeger, and later embodied in an affidavit by Sigmund Franklin, a horse dealer, tells of the meeting of Coppes with three men, a subsequent fight and the placing of the body of Coppes in a position where it would be struck by a street car. On the strength of Franklin's story James White, a neighbor of Franklin's, is under arrest. He is held without bail and such questions as he has answered tend to bear out the strength of Franklin's story. The records of the coroner's inquest, with the testimony of the motor-man of the car, also seem to verify the statement of Franklin that Coppes was thrown in the path of a car. Coppes was at first thought to have fallen across the rails while he was drunk.

WAVES CARRY DEATH.

Drowned in Unusual Way by Waters of Lake Overwhelming Him.

The body of an unknown man was found on the beach near the Waukegan harbor, and from what can be learned, he met his death in a most unusual way from drowning. It appears that the drowning came by mere washing of waves over his body. He was seen lying on the sand near the spot the previous afternoon, and when the dead body was discovered it lay just at the water's edge. The coroner's jury was unable to obtain any clue to the man's identity, and the fact that he was well dressed and wore a ring leads to the belief that he may have been a man well connected. Inside the ring are the letters "L. M." He wore dark clothes, had brown hair and mustache, was about 35 years old, and weighed about 160 pounds.

VICTIMS OF MOB VIOLENCE.

Residents Attack Italians on Street Car in Sterling and Demolish House.

A mob of fifty persons started an attempt the other night to drive the Italian residents from Sterling. The affair, which resulted in a riot, started on an electric car. Five Italians were on the car, and with stones and clubs the mob attacked the foreigners. The latter drew revolvers and knives, but were ejected from the car. At 2 a. m. the place where the foreigners sleep was surrounded by the mob, but before its arrival the Italians had left the house. They were later discovered in the shadow of a tree, and were driven from the city. The mob returned later to the house and every window was smashed, the doors broken down, and the furniture broken into pieces.

TENT LIFE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Colony to Be Established on Illinois River Near Ottawa.

A colony of tent dwellers is to be established on the Illinois river, near Ottawa, by physicians who hope to cure tuberculosis patients. Arrangements have already been made for thirty acres of land on a high bluff overlooking the river, and, at a small cost, victims of consumption are to be cared for through the year. Patients are to promise before beginning treatment that they will stay until cured, and the estimated time is placed at from nine months to a year. A considerable number of persons is said to be in the party that will make the first consignment to the tent city for the summer and autumn months.

WEDS CHILDHOOD PLAYMATE.

Mattoon Widow to Complete Texas Romance of Years Ago.

A romance which had its inception in Texas several years ago came to a happy conclusion in Mattoon when Paul Adams of San Antonio wedded Mrs. Anna Hagan. Mrs. Hagan, whose maiden name was Anna Long, lived in Texas when a child, and one of her young playmates was Paul Adams. Years passed, Mr. Adams married another, and Miss Long became Mrs. Hagan. Her husband died a few years ago, leaving one son. The young man was taken ill with pneumonia, which developed into consumption, and Mrs. Hagan took him to Texas. They stopped at San Antonio and fate brought Mrs. Hagan and the playmate of her childhood together. Mr. Adams had lost his wife a short time previous.

He was attentive to the widow and her sick boy, and when death relieved the latter of his suffering his was the voice which soothed the grieving mother. After Mrs. Hagan came home a correspondence was commenced between the widow and the widower. The result was an engagement and the fixing of the date for the marriage ceremony. Mr. Adams will take his bride to San Antonio, where he has a position with a southern railroad company.

BOY BURGLARS CAPTURED.

Band of Youthful Marauders in Kensington Broken Up.

A band of youthful burglars which during the last six weeks has kept the merchants of Kensington in a state of constant apprehension has been broken up by the police, and as a result two boys, Bruce Morgan, 10 years old, and George Knops of the same age, have been held to the criminal court, and a third, George Wilson, 11 years old, has been placed in charge of the juvenile officers. All will have to face the charge of robbing several Kensington stores. The specific charge on which the boys were arraigned before Justice Quinn at the Hyde Park police court was the robbery of Prince & Maddern's feed and grain store at 10040 Michigan avenue. They broke down and confessed. According to Morgan, who is charged by the others with being the leader, it was the plan of the three to meet in some secluded spot in the afternoon previous to a night on which a "job" was to be done, and there talk over the best way to accomplish the work with the greatest measure of success and the least chance of detection.

YOUNG OGLESBY HAD TO QUIT.

Initial Trip as Stoker on a Freight Engine.

The initial trip of Jasper Oglesby, son of the late Governor, as fireman on the Chicago and Alton was an inglorious one. He has been devoting the last month to riding on the engine and learning the mysteries of stoking. He was finally thought competent to start out alone, and the other night was sent to Springfield to fire one of the largest freight engines. The young man commenced heroically, but by the time the city limits of Springfield had been reached he gave up and said that he was exhausted. Engineer Sherburne persuaded him to fire a few miles further. At Ridgely he could do no more, and the engineer fired to Sherman, ten miles, while the conductor ran the engine. Oglesby boarded a passenger train at Sherman and returned to Springfield, while the freight laid on a siding until another fireman could be sent down from Bloomington.

MAUNIE MURDERER IS MOBBED.

John Robinson Kills Wife and Brother-in-Law and Shoots Himself.

John Robinson of Maunies killed his wife and brother-in-law and then attempted to take his own life. He shows no emotion, and only says, "People don't kill one another for nothing." He invited Artberry, his brother-in-law, home with him. They quarreled, and Robinson shot and killed Artberry. His wife then was shot to death as she held her baby. Robinson then shot himself. On learning that he was not dead a mob formed and made an attack on the place where Robinson was being cared for. He has lost both eyes and begged the sheriff to let the mob have its will.

FIND MINISTER IS GUILTY.

Baptist Council Holds Rev. Mr. Reynolds' Conduct Unbecomingly to Cloth.

After an all night session, which did not end until 6 o'clock in the morning, the council at the First Baptist Church at Upper Alton brought in a verdict finding Rev. J. E. Reynolds guilty of conduct unbecomingly a minister of gospel. The charge preferred was obtaining goods by false pretenses, by the Upper Alton church, when Mr. Reynolds made application several months ago for a letter to join the First Baptist Church at Zanesville, Ohio, of which he was at that time the pastor. The council consisted mostly of ministers representing fifty different churches.

COMMISSIONER HAS STROKE.

Captain Kidd, Government Official, Has Third Paralytic Attack.

Captain Thomas W. S. Kidd, United States Commissioner, who was for twenty years or more editor and publisher of the Springfield Morning Monitor, was stricken with paralysis on the street in that city. Owing to his advanced age and the fact that this is the third stroke he has suffered, fears are apprehended he may not recover. He was a personal friend of Lincoln.

CRIPPLE ABLE TO JUMP.

Leaps from Moving Train and Escapes Facing Murder Charge.

Curtis McElain, a cripple, who is wanted at Caruthersville, Mo., on a charge of murder, was arrested at Grand Tower, and while being taken to Thebes to be turned over to the Missouri officials made his escape through the car window by jumping from a rapidly moving train. He is charged with having beaten his victim and then cut his throat.

LOSE OVER $100,000,000.

Farmers Hard Hit by Diseases Which Injure Plants.

Losses to crops through plant diseases are estimated now as mounting into hundreds of millions of dollars yearly.

According to the report for 1903, just issued by the Department of Agriculture, the damage to the potato crop through blight and rot was $10,000,000 in New York State alone.

From all parts of the country reports of plant diseases affecting all sorts of crops come and make up a total monetary loss that it is well-nigh impossible to estimate.

The cotton root rot in Texas prevailed to a greater extent than for many years, the loss being estimated at about $2,000,000.

Anthracnose has been generally prevalent from North Carolina to Georgia and locally injurious, especially to sea island cotton in south Georgia. It continues to spread slowly and now occurs in limited areas in North Carolina and South Carolina, and is widely prevalent in south Georgia and southeastern Alabama, in connection with root rot. It occurred as usual on the poorer soils and was unusually severe in Texas.

The potato blight and rot caused widespread destruction, being especially enormous in New York, Pennsylvania, northeastern Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin. The cherry shot hole fungus was injurious in New York and Pennsylvania and prevailed destructively in Iowa and Nebraska. Crown gall is becoming more serious every year as a nursery pest throughout the country. The black rot of grape was more general in Connecticut and Rhode Island, the loss being 40 per cent.

Corn smut caused heavy loss in Maryland and was common in New York. Corn leaf blight was general in Connecticut, Delaware, eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Alfalfa rust affected Ohio and rice blight was felt especially in the Cooper River section of South Carolina, where the crop was over 100,000 bushels short. The loss from the spread of this disease in the last six years is estimated at $1,000,000. Asparagus rust is increasing in the East and important canning districts are badly affected. Watermelon wilt is spreading in the South and cantaloupe leaf blight was injurious, especially in the South, the loss in Florida being 40 per cent.

Apple scab was much less injurious in the East, but it seems to have been more destructive in the West, especially in Wisconsin, Eastern Nebraska and Missouri. Apple canker or brown rot was prevalent in Connecticut, Ohio, New York and Michigan. Black heart, a disease affecting the wood of apple trees, was reported from Montana, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and adjacent States.

Brown rot was again less injurious in the Eastern States, but was very destructive to Southern peaches, the loss amounting to from 30 to 60 per cent of the crop in Georgia. Peach leaf curl seems to cause immense losses each year. In Ohio, in Ottawa County alone, the loss from leaf curl was $50,000.

The department in a report on the principal injurious insects of 1903 says the calendar year showed smaller losses than in many years. Certain pests caused great injury in limited localities and several new insect enemies of crops were discovered.

The Mexican cotton boll weevil, which spread into Louisiana, is stamped as the most important insect pest of the present time.

The mileage of the railway system of Mexico now aggregates 10,078 miles.

The Southern and Louisville and Nashville will erect a joint brick and stone passenger station at Decatur, Ala.

Negotiations have been requested by the Memphis Freight Bureau to induce the Cotton Belt to continue its Memphis business.

American capitalists will build a railroad between Culiacan, State of Sinaloa, Mexico, and Topia, State of Durango, a distance of about seventy-five miles.

It is rumored that the passenger department of the Erie is giving favorable consideration to a plan to equip the road with its own sleeping and parlor cars.

The new steamships which are being built by Mr. James J. Hill for the traffic between Puget Sound and the Orient will each carry 22,000 tons of freight.

The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern has established a new sleeping car service from Chicago to Charleston, W. Va., in connection with the Ohio Central.

The Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis and the Louisville and Nashville have entered into a 64-year agreement by which the terminals, switches and other facilities of the two roads are to be used in common.

Amended articles of incorporation of the Kansas Central, Oklahoma and Gulf Railroad have been filed at Guthrie, changing the name of the company to the Dominion and Gulf, and increasing the capital from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Shipments of flour and grain all-rail to the East last week from Chicago were the largest in a month. Flour increased 0.155 barrels for the week, and 59,241 barrels over last year. Grain increased 870,000 bushels, and was 1,770,000 bushels over last year. In the provision trade there was a gain of 645 tons for the week, and 5,000 tons over last year.

NAMING A CANDIDATE

FIGURES PROVE IT A COSTLY UNDERTAKING.

The Two Leading National Conventions Will Involve Expenditures Exceeding Two Millions of Dollars—How the Enormous Expenses Are Divided.

The country is getting ready to spend rather more than a million dollars in nominating a candidate for the presidency at Chicago in the three or four days beginning June 21, when the Republican national convention is to be held.

In three or four days beginning July 6 at least as much will be spent for a like purpose by the Democratic national convention, to be held in St. Louis. As the Democratic convention seems likely to be the more strenuous of the two and may last longer, more money will probably be spent in St. Louis than in Chicago. It will certainly cost $2,000,000 to place the two leading presidential candidates before the people, and this big sum will be considerably larger if either nomination should be hotly contested. These figures may seem excessive, but here are a few facts to bear them out:

Needs Small Army. In the first place, it will take between 4,000 and 5,000 men and women to run the convention and report its proceedings. This small army will be divided into five general classes, of which the delegates will be most important, numerically as well as otherwise. They will number about 2,000, half being actual delegates and half alternates. To be exact, so far as the Republican convention is concerned, there will be 672 delegates from the States, and an average of four each from the six territories of Alaska, Arizona, Hawaii, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Porto Rico, or 24 in all, making a total of 996, or a grand total of delegates and alternates of 1,892.

The "convention staff" includes deputy sergeants-at-arms, ushers, messengers, pages and doorkeepers. Based on the average of past conventions, there will be 200 deputies, 200 ushers, 200 messengers, 200 pages and 100 doorkeepers—900 all told—and there may be more.

Next come the newspaper men—and women—including shorthand reporters, correspondents, photographers, artists, telegraphers and messengers. There will probably be about a thousand of them in all; between 400 and 500 press seats are always reserved in the convention hall, with the assumption that at least half of the newspaper representatives in the convention will do their work elsewhere than in the hall itself—at the hotels, in committee rooms, etc. Possibly the number of actual working newspaper folk at the national convention may not be more than 400 or 500, but at least a thousand press credentials are undoubtedly given out always.

Last comes the miscellaneous class, and it is very miscellaneous indeed. It includes the national committeemen (45 in number, one from each State), their private secretaries, stenographers and clerks, the working office force of the sergeant-at-arms (as distinguished from his "convention staff"), the employees at the various candidates' headquarters, and "all not otherwise classified." These latter would swell the miscellaneous class to 600 at least if a convention before which several candidates were to be placed in nomination, as may be the case at St. Louis this year. The "visiting attendance" averages about 20,000.

Railroad and Hotel Bills.

It is safe to assume that the average round trip railroad fare paid for the 4,400 persons who run and report the convention will be $15 each, or $66,000—some of them will pay a good deal more, for they come from all parts of the country—and that the "visiting attendance" pay $5 in round trip fares each, or $100,000—$166,000, all told, for the railroads. The returns to the hotel and other entertainment purveyors will be much larger, even if the convention lasts only three days. This will be its minimum length, no matter how peaceful its deliberations. Figuring the hotel and other expenses of the 24,400 people who will run, report and attend the convention at $10 a day each, the total will be $732,000, and the grand total of money paid to the railroads and the city will be $898,000.

Nearly all the big daily newspapers of the country depend upon the Associated Press for their routine convention reports, though some receive them through other sources, and there are at least 100 that send from one to ten or fifteen people of their own to the convention city to do special stunts of one sort or another. At a low estimate these papers will spend $100,000 for special reports, telegraph tolls, photographs, etc. Besides, there will be special expenditures, extra wires, private messages and the like along telegraphic lines, quite outside the newspaper service, of at least $10,000.

Thus a grand total of $1,103,000 for a three-day excursion is at the rate of $307,333 a day.

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS.

Recently a Representative from Iowa called upon the President to induce him to promote one Col. Dinwiddie, a native of that state, from being a Colonel in the Signal Corps to the grade of Brigadier General. The President listened to the arguments with an unusual sense of amusement. It wasn't even hinted that Dinwiddie had ever smelt powder, or been under arms, or done anything else entitling him to a promotion. Iowa has never had a brigadier general was the plea, and she wants one awfully bad. The President replied that promotions in the army do not go by states.

The great and perplexing question among democrats is how they can muzzle William J. Bryan. The newspapers have been killing him off for many months, and saying all sorts of funny things about him nevertheless at the critical moment he pops up with the Nebraska democracy behind him and the same old platform in his pocket. The proposition is how to smother Bryan and his notions and yet keep him and his faction to the ticket and to the party. A happy solution is wanted. Suppose all the regular democracy goes over to the Bryan faction? Here's a chance for a union.

A movement has started in Akron, Ohio which promises to set the country wild. A new organization has sprung up called the "Young Crusaders." The boys belong to a Sunday School, of course, they wear khaki uniforms, flourish swords, talk loud and sleep out of doors under real flapping tents. Two of Senator Dick's offspring belong to the band. Exactly what the crusade is about does not appear. Possibly it is a crusade against using tobacco, telling lies, being lazy, and showing respect to one's parents. If so, it should prosper.

There is a rumor in the democratic press that many republican Senators object to the proposed placing of Sec'y Cortelyou in the position of Chairman of the National Republican Committee. It is said that Spooner, Fairbanks, Kean and Dryden of New Jersey, Penrose, Platt of New York, and Hale of Maine shake their heads and say this will never do. Such rumors can be taken for what they are worth. The President is of shrewd man and knows what he wants.

President Baer, of the Anthracite Coal Trust says God put up the price of coal. He also says he intends to sell coal at as high a price as people will pay for it, and get all the profits he can out of the business. Under these circumstances it is almost time for the United States Government and the people, to say what they will do about it. Four dollars a ton is a good price and would yield a fair profit. All above that is extortion.

Paul Morton formerly a democrat and son of that Sterling Morton who was Secretary of Agriculture under Cleveland, announces that he has become a republican. He says there is to much "tommy rot" in the party he has just left, and that the Republicans are the only people who do anything. Mr. Morton is wiser in his own generation than his forebears.

Among the spell binders who are expected to make nominating and seconding speeches at Chicago are Senator Beveridge of Indiana, Mr. H. S. Edwards of Macon Ga., Joseph Cotton of Duluth Minn., Geo. A. Knight of California, and a negro lawyer from Baltimore. With all this talent there ought to be some stirring speeches.

Numerous thefts of valuable works of art, gold nuggets, fine porcelain and etc., have been made at the St. Louis Exposition. This is too bad, and if it continues will give the management a bad name. Perhaps a little less entertaining and a little more watching would improve matters.

It is amusing to hear the democrats give out from their committee headquarters the opinion that they expect to overturn the republican majority of twenty-four in the House. There'll be time enough for that after they elect Parker or Gorman or Olney or Hearst or whoever else may get the nomination.

Mild literature is to be given out at first by the democrats for the public to feed upon, for fear the St. Louis Convention may adopt a red hot platform, and something real strong will be needed after that event. This is a wise precaution. There is no telling how the cat will jump at St. Louis so long as Bryan holds the bag.

Some body in New Haven wants to get out an injunction to prevent the erection of a soldiers monument in that city. Injunctions were never devised for such purposes. Their utility is to preserve property and prevent mischief.

The Need of the Day.
A preacher in the Isle of Man, discoursing upon Bunyan and his works, said: "In these days, my brethren, we want more bunions."

The Joke Stays, Umbrella Goes.
"Sir!" exclaimed the injured party, "you stuck your umbrella in my eye."
"Oh, no," replied the cheerful offender, "you are mistaken."
"Mistaken?" demanded the irate man. "You idiot! I know when my eye is hurt, I guess."
"Doubtless," replied the cheerful chap, "but you don't know my umbrella. I borrowed this one from a friend to-day!"

Embarrassing.
A superintendent of a Sunday school relates the following true incident: The title of the lesson was, "The rich young man," and the golden text, "One thing thou lackest."
A lady teacher in the primary class asked a little tot to repeat the two, and, looking earnestly in the teacher's face, the child unblushingly told her, "One thing thou lackest—a rich young man."

A Fair Offer.
"Tommy," said the economical mother to the boy with the loose tooth, "I'll give you ten cents if you'll let me pull that tooth."
The boy thought it over and then went to his bank.
"The fun of doing that is worth more'n ten cents," he said. "I'll give you fifteen if you'll let me pull one of yours."

How He Looked at It.
"Yes," said the author, "I got seven letters complimenting me on that one short story."

"That must have made you feel proud."
"It didn't."
"What did it do?"

"Why, it only made me feel that I didn't get enough for it when I sold it."

His Curiosity.
"Does your wife work hard?"
"Well, she seems to, but I've always been curious to know what she does when I'm not home."

"Because when I am home she dusts every blamed room that I get comfortable in, and I can't think what there is left to keep her busy."

Not His Usual Line.
Mr. Selph—She thought I was rather severe. She said she didn't think it was like me to talk of others so.
Miss Bittler—And it wasn't like you, either.
Mr. Selph—Think not?
Miss Bittler—No; you generally talk about yourself.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Too Early for Him.
"The conditions seem to be unfavorable," admitted the trance medium. "I am unable to get any communication from your late husband."
"Well, I'm not at all surprised," replied the widow. "It's only 9 o'clock now and John never did show up till about 2 a. m."

What He Is Giving Up.
"Are you giving up anything during Lent?"
"Yes."
"What?"
"All my change every Sunday morning to help the children make their Sunday school pledges good."

A Movable Feast.
Boarder—Why in creation did you ring the breakfast bell at 4 o'clock this morning?
Cook—The mistress heard it thundering and told me to hurry up and serve breakfast before the milk soured.—New York Weekly.

Tangles It All Up.
Towne—It's a fact that a person with a strong imagination has absolutely no head for figures.
Bowne—Don't you believe it. When my wife gets her imagination to work upon her age she can make arithmetic look sick.

Willing.
"Why, my dear man," declared the hypnotist, "by making a few simple passes before your eyes I can make you forget that you are married."
"Go ahead," said the other. "I've been trying to forget it for ten years."

Two of Them.
Towne—I met that fellow De Bates to-day.
Browne—Yes, so he just told me.
Towne—Talk about a man who won't listen to reason—
Browne—Don't! That's what he's just been talking about.

How It Got Its Name.
Teacher—Where did the desert Gobi get its name?
The Duncie—Cause people go by it instid of through it.

The Woman's Part.
No matter, no matter! I yet will hold that woman's part in the infinite plan is to add to the worth of human gold. That glorious still the race of man. And that I know, and know it well. The best that I am and the best that I know.
From my mother's lips in wisdom fell. In the twilight shades of the long ago. Now, God help the man, for sore his need. When mother wisdom and mother love have faded through the days of his youth to lead.
To the bright, white light all the mists above.
We men do stumble; we falter still; We daily with sin when her robe seems fair.
But as we may, or roam as we will, We never forget a mother's prayer.
And so I say, and I say it again, That ever some woman is in our best. And, thinking of her, men lift again. The burden they dropped when it sorely pressed.
What matter the fools of the woman kind Who better their blighted for potage disdained? Somewhere is the one whom your soul is bound.
To lure you and lead to the heights attained.
—A. J. Waterhouse, in San Francisco Bulletin.

Valuable Manuscripts in America.
In the year 1900 two famous collections of Oriental, chiefly Arabic, manuscripts, were brought to this country; one, the private collection of a well-known Arabic scholar, Count Landberg, was secured for Yale university; the other, which originally had been in the library of a Mohammedan scholar at Medina, and then had been purchased by the publishing house of E. J. Brill at Leyden, through Count Land, was acquired and deposited in the library of their alma mater (Princeton). A third collection was acquired by Mr. Robert Garrett, also from the Brill house, and is at present in Princeton. As to numbers, there are between 800 and 900 manuscripts at Yale, and 1,678 at Princeton.

The oxygenized strength of the healing pines, combined with other well known kidney and bladder remedies, is presented in Pineules. This new discovery gives immediate relief and permanently cures all kidney and bladder troubles.

Bavarian Country Life.
In old Bavarian districts many of the smaller towns are merely walled farm villages. These settlements of agriculturists reproduce the ancient laager for all. Each is built in the form of a parallelogram, the shorter sides having each a gateway, with double gates, over which rise central square watch towers capped with conical red roofs. A narrow road or street runs from gate to gate, with old half-timber houses set back close to the enclosing wall. The ground floor of these houses affords stabling for cattle, and from these stables the cows are driven out through the town gates in the morning and brought in at night. Townships like this are merely clusters of houses intimately connected with the farm lands that lie beyond their gates.

What is a Billion?
In the English system of numeration, a billion is a million of millions, and a trillion is a million of billions. In the French system, which is usually followed in the United States, a thousand million is called a billion, a thousand billion a trillion, and so on. Situated as we are, a British country adjoining the United States, it is but natural that both systems should be in use here, and this, of course, leads to confusion. The English system is defended on the ground that it is at least as convenient and agrees (which the other does not) with the etymological formation of the words—the billion, trillion, quadrillion, etc., being respectively the second, third, fourth, etc., powers of a million. In both systems the million is the same.

Ring's Dyspepsia Tablets instantly relieve the stomach and aid digestion. They are as pleasant as loaf sugar and cure dyspepsia, sour risings, catarrh of the stomach and indigestion. Sold at Swan's drug store.

Disasters to British Warships.
During a great storm in 1703 twelve men-of-war went down off the English coast with 1,800 men. Many lives were lost when the British warship Ajax took fire in 1807. The British warship Captain turned over in the Bay of Biscay in 1870, about 600 lives being lost. When the Sultan, the sister ship of the Captain, was sitting out at Portsmouth, a grim humorist, prophesying her possible fate (happily he proved to be wrong), chalked on her side: "Will leave on Thursday with mails for the Captain."

Narrow-Mindedness.
It is not until your relation with others is understood that you can successfully plan your own life. For this reason the narrow-minded person is a failure—in that he shuts himself out from human nature and life.

Have merely proved their vaunting pride absurd;
But thou, great conqueror, thy parish grows
Untill no corner of the world but knows
Thy name, that's laid wherever heard.
Great Wesley! mighty man of mighty men!
We come to scribe our love upon the scroll
That's writ by lauding continents, whose shores
Are blest with churches dotting every gleam.
All hearing witness to the kindly soul,
That brightens through the everlasting doors.

Pineules is the name of a new discovery put up in a new way, a certain cure for all kidney and bladder troubles, rheumatism, lumbago, etc. You are requested to call at our store and let us show you Pineules, derived from the pines. Sold at Swans drug store.

Book Worth $125,000.
The most valuable work in existence is said to be a copy of the Koran, now treasured in the Mohammedan city of Ispahan-Rusa, Persia. The covers, 9 1/2 in. by 4 in., are of solid gold 1/4 in. thick, while precious stones set in symbolic designs figure in the center and at each of the corners. The book is written upon parchment, and this part of the work is valued at $125,000.

French Barber With Nerve.
A Parisian barber, to win a wager, entered a cage containing a lion and a man, and composedly shaved the man whilst the lion interestedly watched the operation.

Man-Zan is certainly a specific for piles. This new discovery is put up in collapsible tubes, with a nozzle so that it may be applied where most needed. Stops the pain instantly and cures. Sold at Swans drug store.

The commencement banquet exercises of the Lake Villa school were held at the Ice House hotel last Friday evening, June 10. Invited guests to the number of sixty responded to the invitations by their presence. The large dining room was beautifully decorated in green and white, the class colors. The tables were arranged to form a Greek cross and the entire company being seated at once were served with a very elaborate and dainty menu. Each guest having a beautiful menu card as a souvenir of the occasion. The menu consisted of strawberries and cream, salad, wafers, cold meats, sandwiches, olives, pickles, ice cream, angel cake, devil cake, nut cake, fruit and frappe. At the close of the lovely repast, was the program consisting of "songs" and songs. Miss Lula Hucker presided as toast mistress in a most graceful manner. The first toast on the program was "Sand" response by Norman Mac Lean, this was followed with a song by Geo. Sugar. "Guns" was responded to by Loy Rowling and "Chaps" by Miss Ethel Hawkins of the class of '08, after this the class song came. The next number on the program had to be omitted on account of the illness of our popular primary teacher. The Rev. J. W. Lee responded to "Problems" which was greatly enjoyed by all. Harold McMahon then gave the retrospection of the class. The Presentation of diplomas closed the program. The class of '04 we would give our most hearty congratulations and predict for them a bright future. The names of the graduates are: Harold C. Harbaugh, Leila B. Hughes, Harold T. Mac Mahon, Nellie L. Hawkins, Norman J. Mac Lean, Hattie J. Miller.

Rancher's Ingenious Scheme.
An ingenious rancher of Occasdale, in San Diego county, is said to have a vivid and brilliant idea for economizing labor and fuel, in hatching eggs. He has discovered that bees develop a considerable amount of warmth, so he simply places the eggs over a beehive, and in due time they are hatched. If he could manage to cross his bees with Bantam hens, he might be able to make them lay little cigar chicks.

Circulation of Two.
The "Daily Record of International Opinion," published by command of the German emperor, is not much of an advertising medium, its circulation being exactly two copies. One goes to the Kaiser, the other to the national library. It consists entirely of extracts from German and foreign newspapers, and its cost forms a pretty big item in the civil list.
DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?
Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.
Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid, troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.
Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and one dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.
Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

LIVER TROUBLES

"I find Theford's Black-Draught a good medicine for liver disease. I cured my son after he had spent $100 with doctors. It is all the medicine I take."—MRS. CAROLINE MABIN, Parkersburg, W. Va.
If your liver does not act regularly go to your druggist and secure a package of Theford's Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine frees the constipated bowels, stirs up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.
Theford's Black-Draught will cleanse the bowels of impurities and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys result in Bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A 25-cent package of Theford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.
"I used Theford's Black-Draught for liver and kidney complaints and found nothing to excel it."—WILLIAM COFFMAN, Marchwood, Ill.

INVESTIGATE

BEFORE YOU BUY YOUR SUPPLY OF PAINT

In these days of sharp competition it is well to see to it that you get what you pay for. There are so many brands of House Paints on the market nowadays, advertised as "Pure" (but little better than "dope") that a man ought to know positively what he is buying. We suggest to those about to paint to make a practical test and convince themselves. Buy a small can of Monarch Mixed Paint and one of any other brand with which you may have been favorably impressed, selecting about the same colors and paint out a few feet. Carefully measure the paint so that you use no more of one than the other. Thus, with the conditions the same, you can determine for yourself which paint has the better body or covering capacity; which spreads the smoothest and looks the best. If you do not decide in favor of the Monarch Paint we will refund the money you paid for the can of Monarch used in the experiment.

MONARCH PAINT
is guaranteed absolutely pure and sold subject to chemical analysis.
MONARCH PAINT
in point of covering capacity and durability is unsurpassed by any painting material made.
MONARCH PAINT
being made of pure materials covers 25 per cent more surface, wears longer, and is more economical than adulterated paint.

Free to Twenty-five Ladies.
The Danforth Starch Co. will give 25 ladies a round trip ticket to the St. Louis Exposition, to five ladies in each of the following States: Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, who will send in the largest number of trade marks cut from a ten-cent, 10-ounce package of Danforth cold water laundry starch. This means from your own home, anywhere in the above named States. These trade marks must be mailed to and received by the Danforth Starch Co., Omaha, Neb., before Sept. 1, 1904. October and November will be the best months to visit the exposition. Remember that Danforth is the only starch put up 10 oz. (a full pound) to the package. You get one-third more starch for the same money than of any other kind, and Danforth never sticks to the iron. The tickets to the exposition will be sent by registered mail Sept. 5. Starch for sale by all dealers.

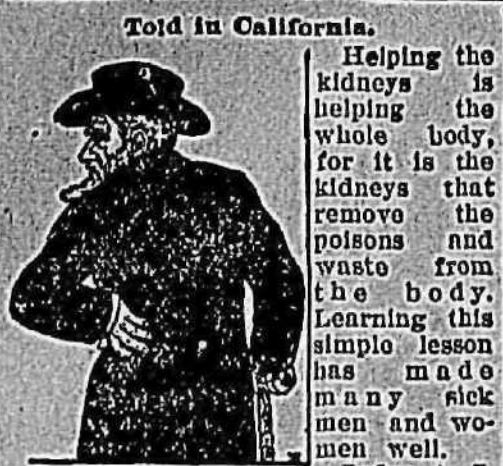

Mrs. Haskell, Worthy Vice-Templar, Independent Order Good Templars, Silver Lake, Mass., tells of her cure by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines and washes internally and externally until I made up my mind that there was no relief for me. Calling at the home of a friend, I noticed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My friend endorsed it highly, and I decided to give it a trial to see if it would help me. It took patience and perseverance for I was in bad condition, and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nearly five months before I was cured, but what a change, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful exhilarating feeling health always brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars, and your Vegetable Compound is a grand medicine."

"I wish every sick woman would try it and be convinced."—MRS. IDA HASKELL, Silver Lake, Mass., Worthy Vice-Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars. —$6000 forfeit. If original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

How to Keep House.
With all the luxuries and pleasures of this life, its big enjoyments and its smaller comforts, there is an offset or antithesis which we have to contend with in the form of aches and pains. In some way and by some means every one has a touch of them in some form at some time. Trifling as some of them may be, the risk is that they will grow to something greater and rack the system with constant torture. There is nothing, therefore, of this kind that we have a right to trifle with. Taken in time, the worst forms of pains and aches are easily subdued and cured by the free use of St. Jacobs Oil. No well regulated household should be without a bottle of this great remedy for pain. It is the specific virtue of penetration in St. Jacobs Oil that carries it right to the pain spot and effects a prompt cure even in the most painful cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica. You want it also in the house at all times for hurts, cuts and wounds, and the house that always has it keeps up a sort of insurance against pain.

BANDITS ROB TRAIN.

PASSENGER ON DENVER AND RIO GRANDE HELD UP.

Masked Men Wound a Brakeman, Blow Safe and Get Bag of Specie—Bandits Cross a River and Flee to the Mountains.

Denver and Rio Grande passenger train 5, west bound from Denver, was held up Tuesday night by five masked men three miles west of Parachute, a small fruit station between Grand Junction and Glenwood Springs. One sealed bag containing specie was taken from the express safe, which was dynamited. The express car was wrecked, but the robbers were forced to take to the mountains before they could gather up the valuables in the car.

When the train reached a point three miles west of Parachute two masked men crawled over the tender of the engine. They placed six-shooters to the head of Engineer Allison and his fireman and demanded that the train be stopped. Three men were waiting on the tender, and as the train stopped they ran back and unoccupied the express and baggage cars. These cars, with the engine, were run two miles west.

Members of the train crew were ordered to remain with the passenger coaches under threat of being shot. When the point selected for the dynamiting of the express car was reached the engineer and fireman were ordered down. One of the robbers covered them with two revolvers while the remainder of the gang went to the express car. Messenger D. M. Shea refused to open the car and piled the baggage in front of the door. The robbers placed a stick of dynamite at the side door and it was blown away and half a dozen trunks piled up against it were demolished.

The large iron combination safe was the only one in the car. The robbers showed that they were familiar with conditions on the road, for they did not even ask the messenger to open the safe. This safe can be opened only in Denver or Salt Lake City. A stick of dynamite was placed against the lock of the safe. At this point Brakeman Shellenbarger, who had been ordered to remain with the passenger coaches, two miles behind, came running up the track carrying a lantern. One of the robbers shot at him. He was wounded in the leg.

When the robbers saw the train crew coming they fled to the mountains. One of them, as he jumped from the express car, seized one sealed bag which had been blown open of the safe. The scene of the robbery is only 500 yards from the Grand river, and it is believed the robbers had a boat hidden in the Grand and used this to cross the river, destroying it after they had crossed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXPENSES.

Cost of Sealing the Big Show for a Week Need Not Exceed $35.

What will it cost to see the St. Louis fair? This is the question hundreds of thousands of people are asking. And there are as many answers as there are questions. It will cost you as much or as little as you choose.

By careful economy and by making arrangements in advance, one should be able to see the fair one week—the actual fare without trimmings—for $25. This does not include railroad fare, the Pike, the theaters, the purchase of souvenirs. It does include just this:

Room, six days at $1.50..... $9 00
Admission, six days..... 3 00
Breakfast, six days at 25 cents..... 1 50
Luncheon, six days (on grounds), at 75 cents..... 4 50
Dinner, six days (on grounds), at 75 cents..... 4 50
Car fare to grounds, 10 cents a day..... 00

Total.....$23 10

By arranging in advance, a pleasant room may be secured for $1.50 or $2 per day. By good luck, this may include breakfast. Of course a breakfast at 25 cents will not be very elaborate. But it should consist of good coffee, good rolls and fruit.

To save time and a second admission ticket, one should count on eating luncheon and dinner inside the grounds. The gates are open from 9 a. m. to midnight. Prices inside the grounds are high.

Of course, one might live on a ham sandwich and a cup of coffee, but the exertion of walking around the immense extent of grounds makes one's appetite ravenous. Sandwiches cost 15 cents each and coffee 10 cents per cup, and neither is very large.

But for 75 cents one may obtain a simple meal, including a roast, coffee and a small dessert. An elaborate dinner in the high-grade restaurants will cost you as much as you wish to spend. By remaining six days, you can devote one-half day to each main building. Your evenings you may spend on the Pike, witnessing the illuminations or inspecting the State buildings.

This is the minimum one should expect to spend. There will be many things to tempt you to exceed the limit, and it will require great strength of will to resist them. This, however, is a fair basis upon which one can estimate what it will cost to see the fair.

By writing to the bureau of information, Louisiana Purchase Exposition, people can arrange for rooms or learn how it can be done.

Marion N. Butler, the well-known Kansas prohibition agitator, died at his home in Topeka of cancer of the stomach. He had spent the past ten years trying to reform things in Kansas. He lectured on temperance and ran a temperance paper.

Harry W. Kelley, a plumber at work on a Santa Fe deep well at Shawnee, O. T., stepped out of the way of one engine on a main line track, where a swiftly moving engine struck him in the back, tossing him outside the right-of-way and instantly killing him.

CATARRH IS THE CAUSE OF MOST KIDNEY DISEASES.

PE-RU-NA CURES CATARRH.

Samuel R. Sprecher, Junior Bendle Court Angellina, 3,422, I. O. O. F., 205 New High St., Los Angeles, Cal., writes:

"I came here a few years ago suffering with catarrh of the kidneys. In search of health, I thought the climate would cure me, but I found I was mistaken. But what the climate could not do Peruna could and did. Seven weeks' trial convinced me that I had the right medicine, and I was then a well man. I know of at least twenty friends and members of the lodge to which I belong who have been cured of catarrh, bladder and kidney trouble through the use of Peruna, and it has a host of friends in this city."

SAMUEL R. SPECHER.

Catarrh of the Kidneys a Common Disease—Kidney Trouble Often Fails to Be Regarded as Catarrh by Physicians.

Catarrh of the kidneys is very common indeed. It is a pity this fact is not better known to the physicians as well as the people.

People have kidney disease. They take some diuretic, hoping to get better. They never once think of catarrh. Kidney disease and catarrh are seldom associated in the minds of the people, and, alas, it is not very often associated in the minds of the physicians. Too few physicians recognize catarrh of the kidneys. They doctor for something else. They try this remedy and that remedy. The trouble may be catarrh all the time. A few bottles of Peruna would cure them.

Pe-ru-na Removes the Cause of the Kidney Trouble.

Peruna strikes at the very center of the difficulty, by eradicating the catarrh from the kidneys. Catarrh is the cause of kidney difficulty. Remove the cause and you remove the effect. With unerring accuracy Peruna goes right to the spot. The kidneys are soon doing their work with perfect regularity.

Thousands of Testimonials.

Thousands of testimonials from people who have had kidney disease which had gone beyond the control of the physician are received by Dr. Hartman every year, giving Peruna the whole praise for marvelous cures.

Pe-ru-na Cures Kidney Disease.

Peruna cures kidney disease. The reason it cures kidney disease is because it cures catarrh. Catarrh of the kidneys is the cause of most kidney disease. Peruna cures catarrh wherever it happens to be located. It rarely fails.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The First Plowing.
Calls the crow from the pine tree top
When the April air is still.
He calls the farmer hitching his team
In the farm yard under the hill.
"Come up!" he cries. "Come out and come up."
For the high field's ripe to till
Don't wait for word from the dandelion,
Or leave from the dandelion.

Cheeps the flycatcher: "Here old earth
Warms up in the April sun.
And the first ephemera, wings yet wet,
From the mold creep, one by one.
Under the fence where the flies frequent
Is the earliest gossamer spun.
Come up from the damp of the valley
lands,
For here the winter's done."

Whistles the highbottle out of the grove,
His summons loud and clear.
"Chilly it may be down your way,
But the high south flood has cheer."
On the sunward side of the chestnut stump
The wood grubs wake and appear.
Come out, your plowing—come up to your plowing—here is here."

Then dips the colter and drives the share,
And the furrows faintly steam.
The crow drifts furtively down from the pine
To follow the clanking team.
The flycatcher tumbles; the highbottle darts
In the young noon's yellow gleam.
And wholesome sweet the smell of the second
Upturned from his winter's dream.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery.
Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

Primitive Negro Weapons.
The weapons of the Negroes are universally the bow and arrow and the short knife or bolo. The bows are of various materials, from a clumsy strip of bamboo to the fine-grained
"palma brava," which takes a beautiful polish. The arrows are of light rod straight mollatium cane, either with sharpened hardwood points or variously shaped and barbed-iron points. Some for larger game have detachable points fastened to the shaft by a woven fiber coil, which unwinds when the animal is struck, leaving a dangling shaft to catch on underbrush, and so retard the animal's flight.

Driven to Desperation.
Living at an out of the way place, remote from civilization, a family is often driven to desperation in case of accident, resulting in burns, cuts, wounds, ulcers,
etc. Lay in a supply of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the best on earth. 25c at J. H.

thousand.

White Hair

Kindly watch by my bed, lift no voice
In prayer.
Waste not any words on me when the hour is high—
Let a stream of melody but flow from some sweet player.
And meekly will I lay my head and fold my hands to die.

Sleek am I of idle words, past all recommending.
Words that weary and perplex, and
pander, and conceal;
Wake the sounds that cannot lie, for all their sweet beguiling.
The language one need fathom not, but only hear and feel.

Let them roll once more to me, and ripple
in my hearing.
Like waves upon some lonely beach
where no craft anchoreth;
That I may steep my soul therein, and craving naught, nor fearing, Drift on through slumber to a dream,
and through a dream to death.
—From the French of Mme. Necker.

A Practical Joke.
"The practical jokes of Harvard undergraduates do not usually interest me," said a Boston banker, "but two young Harvard men played on a chop-house man a trick that was neat. They got a brush and a can of paint, and they painted out one letter in the chop-house man's big sign. The sign read originally:

"OUR CHOPS CAN'T BE BEAT."
"It read after they got through with it:

"OUR CHOPS CAN'T BE EAT."

Worst of all Experiences.
Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newton, Ledard, Ala. "For three years," she writes,
"I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely cured." For liver, kidney, stomach and bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It's guaranteed by J. H. Swan, druggist.

Inherited Family Traits.
"Jim," an old colored retainer, had never been on speaking terms with truth. One day his mistress lost her temper and rated him soundly. "Jim,"
she said, "you have been on this place ever since I can remember, and ever since I can remember you've been the most unmitigated liar I have ever known. To my own knowledge you've been promising these forty years past that you'd learn to tell the truth, but you never learn. Now, I want to know, once for all, will or will you not,
in one single instance, tell me the truth?" "Deed, Miss Lizzie," Jim answered, his head hung in shame, "I'll try; but you must remember I was bo'n in dis fambly, and I s'pect I've herited
some of de fambly traits."

Must Be Vaccinated.
In Norway and Sweden before a couple can be legally married they must be vaccinated, and accordingly before the nuptial rites are performed it is the duty of the minister to inspect the vaccination certificates of both bride and bridegroom. Vaccination and love-making are closely connected in Brazil. There parents and guardians, before giving their consent to the marriage of their charges, demand a certificate from a medical man, testifying that the would-be bride or bridegroom has been vaccinated.

No Competition.
The uniform success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints both in children and adults has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival, and as everyone who has used it knows, is without an equal. For sale by all druggists.

Old English Custom.
In certain districts of England formerly when an owner parted almost entirely with other rights to a house
he would reserve the right of boiling his pot on the fire. This secured to him the right of voting, and what was of more importance, the position of being a freeholder. At Taunton, for example, the voters were called "pot wallowers," because they had the rights to "wallop" or boil their pots
at the fire in their freehold houses.
Sometimes when a person parted with a long lease, but not with the freehold of a house, it was expressly stipulated that he should keep the right to boil his pot on the fire.

The Bad Boy.

She knelt beside the bed where lay the boy.
Who all the weary day had been so bad;
Tears wet her cheeks, and prayer was on her lips.
The while she drank grief's gall in bitter sips.
"If you but knew, my boy," I heard her say.
"How you have hurt me through this livelong day.
If you could know the love a mother
bears.
Or that your name's the burden of her prayers."

And then she prayed till hope came back to her.
And happy tears replaced the grief-drops
of pain.
She prayed for patience, prayed for light, but more Prayed for the boy for whom such love
she bore.

She prayed that he might choose the better part.
And lose the growing hardness in his heart.
She prayed till joy unto her soul returned.
And mother joys through all her being burned.

How like her God she seemed, while knelling there.
Her lips attuned to sweet unselfish
prayer.
How like the Christ that nightly over me bends, trusting that my joys for him may be.

Such, that upon the morrow, I may go
More meekly on his errands here below.
Some day that boy must feel love's thrilling thrill.
I yet may learn to do my Master's will.
—S. W. Gilliam in Baltimore American.

CLERGYMAN IN A CORNER.

Elder Was Armed With Argument for Quotation.

A clergyman was rebuked by one of the ruling elders for sauntering on the Sunday along the hillside above the manse. The clergyman took the rebuke in good part, but tried to show the remonstrant that the action of which he complained was innocent and lawful, and he was about to cite the famous example of a Sabbath walk, when the plucking of the ears of corn, as set forth in the Gospels, when he was interrupted with the remark: "On ay, sir, I ken weel what you mean to say, but for my part I hae nefer thoct the better o' them for breakin' the Sabbath."—New York Tribune.

MEAL TIME IN PORTO RICO.

Traveler Complains of Marked Absence of Formality.

The low plane on which the natives of Porto Rico live and the needs of their mental and physical advancement are being told to Philadelphia by Linden H. Harris of the Philadelphia Divinity School, who recently returned from the island, where he has spent two and a half years in the interest of the Protestant Episcopal church.

As an example of the life there he tells of his experiences of a meal which he was invited to take at the home of one of the natives, and its rude interruption. Several times during the course of the meal, he says a maid would enter and chase the pig-cons off the table.

Suddenly Mr. Harris felt something rubbing against his leg. When he looked down to see what it was he found a razor-backed hog at his feet.
"That was the limit," says Mr. Harris. "I couldn't eat any more at that table."—Philadelphia Press.

Startling Evidence.
Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Benton-ville, Va., serves as example. He writes:
"I had bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited.
Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me."
Equally effective in curing all lung and throat troubles, consumption, pneumonia and grip. Guaranteed by J. H. Swan, druggist. Trial bottle free, regular size

Care of Circus Animals.
Great care must be taken during the winter months to preserve the health of circus animals, as nearly all of them are susceptible to some form of disease. Monkeys take cold easily, and unless quinine is given them at once quick consumption is almost certain to result. When a monkey has to take quinine it makes a great fuss.
This is why a mother tells her young hopeful when he makes a grimace over his medicine: "Come, now;
down with it, and no more monkey faces!" Elephants have rheumatism; camels have skin disease, and all members of the cat family must be given lime juice to overcome the bad effects of stomach trouble.

Japanese Trained Nurses.
The Japanese trained nurse is said to be the equal of the American and English trained nurse, the women of Japan having attended the hospital training schools both before and after the war with China. American and English trained nurses are the instructors in these institutions, which are said to equal the best of their class in any country. One has to read this sort of thing in cold print before believing it; even then, it is hard to associate anything so stern as typhoid baths, operating tables, sterilizing plants and clinics with the soft, smiling childlike little Japanese women.

Some Old-Time Recipes.
Some of the recipes in a quaint old book were intended specially for a "lord's" table. For instance, a pike was to be served whole to "a lord," but cut in pieces for the "common- alts." Cabbages were to be thickened with grated bread for ordinary people, but served with yolks of eggs for a "lord." The dishes at this time used at table were either gold or silver for great occasions and wooden trenchers and platters for ordinary use. It was not till the time of Queen Elizabeth that plates of metal and earthenware began to be generally used instead of wood.

Prefer Shoes of Wood.
"The wooden shoe," said A. Omer- ish of Holland, "is worn almost ex- clusively by the peasant classes, and they find them more comfortable than the leather shoes that are worn in America. The foot is clad in a heavy woolen stocking and then slipped into the shoe without fastening. They never fall off because the people are used to wearing them. They would not exchange, because any other kind would not be comfortable. The shoes are of elm wood and cost from 10 to 15 cents of American money. Two pairs will last a year."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cash Given Away to Users of LION COFFEE

We are going to be more liberal than ever in 1904 to users of Lion Coffee. Not only will the Lion-Heads, cut from the packages, be good, as heretofore, for the valuable premiums we have always given our customers, but

In Addition to the Regular Free Premiums

the same Lion-Heads will entitle you to estimates in our $50,000.00 Grand Prize Contest, which will make some of our patrons rich men and women. You can send in as many estimates as desired. There will be

TWO GREAT CONTESTS

The first contest will be on the July 4th attendance at the St. Louis World's Fair; the second relates to Total Vote For President to be cast Nov. 8, 1904. $50,000.00 will be distributed in each of these contests, making $100,000.00 on the two, and, to make it still more interesting, in addition to this amount, we will give a to the one who is nearest correct on both contests, and thus your estimates have two opportunities of winning a big cash prize.

Grand First Prize of $5,000.00

Five Lion-Heads cut from Lion Coffee Packages and a 2 cent stamp entitle you (in addition to the regular free premiums) to one vote in either contest:
